WORK ANYTIME ANYWHERE

It's never been easier

The COVID-19 pandemic affected a lot of businesses to the point where some businesses had to permanently close shop. This left many Americans without a job and even unable to find a job within their industry.

The story for Basani Financial was different, we already had remote work processes that functioned flawlessly prior to the pandemic.

As essential workers, our agents continued to work and grow through our pandemic. Our company saw increased sales and increased profit.

Our Unique Remote Application Process

Basani Financial's Remote application process has full access to a multitude of remote application processes that are utilized in today's financial markets. With E-Docu sign, voice signature, and remote signatures, we have mastered the insurance application process.

Our agents can work with clients remotely with telephonic applications and virtual consultations. Clients are able to get all the information they need while being safe.

In addition to all this we do not place agents on a timeline for the clients they are assigned, instead their clients are theirs for life. This means agents can work at their own pace.

WORK AT YOUR OWN PACE!

One of the unique things about the financial services industry is the unlimited income potential. Some people are curious to find out and understand what exactly that means, let's find out!

The Financial Services industry allows agents and producers to create their own source of income (both upfront and residual) for helping clients. We work with our clients and assign them to qualified representatives and agents who are responsible to handle their needs accordingly.

Because agents have direct access to acquire clients from our database, they have the potential to acquire a near unlimited amount of prospects at their own will. This allows our agents to rapidly grow their business and build their agency.

We believe in our model and systems because they have consistently brought our agents a high level of success and stability.
